General Statement

History

HE history of higher education in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church began with the year 1826, when Cumberland College was established at Princeton, Ky. From the beginning the College was seriously embarrassed by debt and a too meager income; and so year by year the situation grew worse, as the burden resting on the General Assembly grew heavier. Finally, in 1842, after fruitless efforts to lift the debt and endow the College, the General Assembly "appointed a committee to select a suitable location for the establishment of a new institution." After investigation, the committee decided on Lebanon, Tennessee-the citizens of which agreed to erect a building at a cost of $10,000—and, accordingly, in September, 1842, Cumberland University entered upon its history. The University was first chartered December 30, 1843, and the charter has been amended at various times since.

As at first organized, the University was composed of a College of Liberal Arts and a Preparatory School. The Law School was opened in 1847. Its growth from the start was remarkable, and in 1856 it was considered the second in size among the law schools of the country. By the concurrent action of the General Assembly and the Board of Trustees the Theological School was established in 1852. In the same year the School of Engineering was added. The Conservatory of Music was established in 1903.

When the Civil War began, the value of the buildings and apparatus belonging to the University was rated at $50,000, and the endowment at $100,000. Moreover, the University was in a most prosperous condition, the number of students in 1858—the most successful year—being four hundred and eighty-one. During the war the University suffered a fate like that of many another Southern school. The buildings were burned, the apparatus and library were destroyed, the endowment was rendered worthless, and many of the trustees and friends lost all hope of reorganization. Notwithstanding all this, a few faithful ones determined to attempt the seemingly impossible, and in January, 1866, the University was reopened without buildings, endowment or apparatus. Since the "resurgence from ashes" the University has had a steady growth. Its buildings are large and commodious, its libraries, general and departmental, number twenty thousand volumes, its apparatus is valued at many thousands of dollars, and its influence reaches far and wide through the Union. Since 1897 the University has been a co-educational institution. Young women are received in all departments on equal terms with young men.

Departments

The departments of the University as at present organized are as follows:

- 1. The College of Arts and Science.
 - a. Undergraduate Courses.
 - b. Graduate Courses.
- 2. The Engineering School.
- 3. The Law School.
- 4. The Theological School.
- 5. The School of Pharmacy.
- 6. The Conservatory of Music.

Each of these departments has a separate faculty, organization and management, but all are under the direction of one Board of Trustees and one President.

Degrees

At least one year of resident study is necessary for the acquirement of a degree, and the candidate must be present on Commencement Day.

The degrees conferred by the University are as follows:

i. Collegiate {	Bachelor of Arts, A.B. Bachelor of Science, B.S.
	Master of Arts, A.M.
3. Professional	Bachelor of Laws, LL.B. Bachelor of Divinity, B.D. Civil Engineer, C.E. Bachelor of Music, B.M. Pharmaceutical Chemist. Ph.C.

Buildings

Memorial Hall, the largest of the University buildings, is occupied by the College, Engineering and Theological Schools, and the Conservatory of Music. It is a large structure, three stories high, and is situated on a beautiful elevation in the center of a campus of some forty-five acres. It contains more than fifty rooms, specially designed and adapted for college and university work. The University chapel, which occupies the rear portion, has just been finished in the most elegant style. There is perhaps no other college chapel in the South so richly and handsomely adorned.

Caruthers Hall, situated on West Main Street, contains the law lecture rooms, two society halls, the University library and the large auditorium for the general meetings of the students and for University exercises.

Divinity Hall, situated farther out on West Main Street, and once the home of the Theological Department, has been thoroughly renovated, and is now used as a dormitory and refectory.

The College Dormitory, a magnificent new structure, has been erected on the main campus near Memorial Hall. The building is 156x50 feet, four stories high, with seventy-five rooms arranged in single apartments and in suites of two and three rooms. It has been constructed of pressed brick and stone, finished in hardwoods, and supplied with every modern convenience—steam heating, electricity, baths, etc. The dining room and kitchen occupy the fourth floor.

Location

Lebanon is one of the oldest towns in Middle Tennessee. It celebrated its centennial in 1902. It has been an educational center almost throughout its history. Its people are celebrated for their culture, morality, and hospitality. The students are received into all their homes. It is an ideal community for student life. The University is the chief enterprise of the town, and as a result the citizens are deeply interested in its prosperity. They accord to the student a most hearty welcome. He is at home at their firesides, and receives on all hands words of cheer and encouragement.

Saloons were abolished in 1901 and since that time the University students have been free from all temptations of vice. Lebaron has well appointed and progressive churches. All students are urged to attend faithfully the services held in the church of their choice.

School Year

In the College, the Engineering School, Law School, and Conservatory of Music the school year begins on the first Wednesday in September and closes on the first Thursday in June. The Seminary year begins on the first Thursday in October and closes on Tuesday before the second Thursday in May. The school year is divided into two terms. The first term extends to the Saturday before the fourth Monday in January. The second term begins on the fourth Monday in January and extends throughout the year.

Instruction and Administration

Scope of Instruction

The work in this department of the University is divided into collegiate, or undergraduate, instruction, and University, or graduate, instruction.

Two undergraduate courses of instruction are provided. The classical course leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts and may be taken with Latin and Greek or with Latin and Modern Language. The Scientific Course requires Modern Language and Advanced Science and leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science. One graduate course is offered, leading to the degree of Master of Arts.

Requirements for Graduation

Candidates for degrees will take the courses as outlined on pp. 41 and 42. All the work of the Freshman and Sophomore years is required. Eighteen hours per week must be taken by Juniors and Seniors. Only eight hours are prescribed for the Juniors; for the Seniors, five. The remaining work is elective.

All students are urged not to postpone any of the required work of the Freshman and Sophomore years until they attain the standing of Juniors or Seniors. This postponement is never rendered necessary for regular students by conflict in recitations, and is almost sure to prove disadvantageous to the student. Any student who, disregarding the suggestions of the Faculty, postpones any of his required work until the last two years of his course must count this an extra duty, to be performed in addition to the eighteen hours of work required of all students. Freshman and Sophomore conditions must be removed before work in the Junior class may be begun.

Examinations and Grading

Besides the daily oral examination upon assigned portions of text two kinds of written examinations will be held. The first will be topical, and will be held at intervals of a few weeks, at the discretion of the professor, upon the completion of a topic or division of a subject. The second will be final, and will be held at the close of each term. Students whose grade in any subject, including the daily recitation and final examination, is below seventy, one hundred being the maximum, will not pass in this subject; and those whose average grade for the year is below seventy will not be permitted to enter the next class, until the condition is removed. Students whose average grade during the Senior year is less than seventy will not be graduated. Students may at any time submit to a second examination and reinstate themselves. Students leaving before the end of any term will be required to stand an examination upon the portion of the course which they have missed before they can enter their classes again.

At the close of each term reports indicating the students' general class standing will be sent to parents or guardians.

Absences

A careful record of the attendance of all students will be kept. Absence from one-tenth of the recitations in any subject will debar the student from passing in that subject unless he shall privately make up these lessons. All this applies to those who enter late as well as those who are absent during the term or leave before the close. Absences not made up will lower the grade proportionately.

Discipline

The University lays upon the student two general requirements. The first is embraced in the motto, "Semper praesens, semper paratus." Continued absence from class and neglect of lessons are offenses for which the student may be admonished or suspended.

The second requirement is that he shall deport himself as a good citizen and a gentleman. In definition of this requirement, the Trustees, by special action, have declared the following as special offenses for which the student may be indefinitely suspended: "Intoxication, gambling, visiting drinking and gambling houses, acting riotously on the streets, and disturbing, by unseemly conduct, religious, literary or educational meetings of citizens or students."

Chapel Service

In the interest of the college students a brief chapel service is conducted each day by some member of the Faculty. At these services the simple truths of Christianity are stressed, the formation of right habits insisted on, the temptations peculiar to college men pointed out, and the worth of manly character emphasized. All students are required to attend.

Equipment

The Mitchell Library

This library was the gift of Mr. David E. Mitchell, while still an undergraduate. It occupies a large and well lighted 100m on the ground floor of the University building, and thus is within easy reach of all students. It is handsomely equipped with sectional bookcases, elegant tables, a cabinet mantel, etc., and at present contains some two thousand one hundred volumes. Since it was opened, more than five years ago, it has proved of the utmost service to the students, and, in fact, may be said to form the most useful and needed equipment the college department has recently acquired.

Chemical Laboratory

The Chemical Department has at its command a number of rooms in Memorial Hall. In addition to the general lecture room there are laboratories for general and analytic work, well equipped with desks, furnished with gas and water, and apparatus for students ample for the courses offered. The stock of chemicals is representative, containing all the common compounds for experimental work, and many rare and curious substances. The laboratories are being enlarged and better equipped each year.

Physical Laboratory

The Department of Physics has at its command a suite of rooms on the first floor of Memorial Hall. While not handsomely provided for as yet, this department has apparatus worth many hundreds of dollars, and is adding to its stock each year.

Gifts or bequests to the department will be gratefully received.

Astronomical Observatory

The University has no astronomical observatory, though it possesses a good reflecting telescope, a transit, and some other instruments of minor importance used by the classes in astronomy. It is earnestly hoped that some friend or alumnus will supply the means necessary to the erection of a small observatory—an addition greatly needed.

Nisbet Biological Laboratory

This recently established laboratory is the gift of a former student of Cumberland, Mr. Frank Watkins Nisbet, of St. Louis, Mo. It was founded in memory of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Watkins F. Nisbet, formerly of Evansville Ind. The laboratory is equipped with the best microscopes made, provided with all suitable eye pieces and objectives, mountings of various kinds, tables, chairs, and, in fact, all other necessary paraphernalia. Mr. Nisbet's generous gift has made possible for the students methods of work and research not open to them heretofore.

Museum of Natural History

The museum of natural history, though hampered for lack of room, embraces an excellent collection which would make a very creditable showing in more commodious quarters. There are several hundred fossils and casts of notable fossils, a working set of minerals, a fine collection of rocks furnished by the government, a large number of alcoholic specimens, and a very valuable collection of five hundred species of Japanese shells, including many duplicates.

Special mention must be made of a very large and valuable collection of shells, accurately classified—a bequest of the late Miss Victoria Jackson, of Bowling Green, Ky.

It is the desire of the curator of this department to make the collection as large and representative as possible; accordingly, friends of the University will confer a great favor by sending to the Professor of Natural Science any specimens they may secure.

Student Activities

Christian Associations

The members of the Faculty take pleasure in commending the good work done by the College Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, which for many years have held before the student body the highest Christian standards. Cumberland University has the honor of having organized one of the first college associations for men in the United States. This association, especially since its reorganization after the war, has been one of the strong religious forces of the University.

Literary Society

The students of the College Department maintain the Amasagassean Literary Society, one of the most flourishing in the University. Programs consisting of debates, essays, papers and other work of a profitable nature are rendered weekly. A large and well-furnished room is provided by the University. Students are urged not to neglect this phase of college training.

Athletics

Believing that athletics is an essential feature of college and university life, the members of the Faculty co-operate with the student body in the effort to promote a healthy athletic spirit, and to maintain the standing of the University in the annual inter-collegiate contests. The Athletic Association, which is under Faculty direction, has the oversight of all local and inter-collegiate baseball and football games, field sports, etc. Professionalism is entirely excluded, and no student is permitted to take part in any public contest who is conditioned in his studies.

The Oratorical Association

The University holds active membership in the Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Association of Tennessee, an organization of several years' standing, and one that during its brief history has been effective in raising the standard of oratory in the several colleges represented.

The Cumberland Weekly

An important agency connected with the work of the University is The Cumberland Weekly, a periodical controlled and edited by the students of the University, subject to the Faculty's direction. It serves as the University mirror, reflecting all matters of interest relating to athletics, literary societies, Christian Associations, and the various departments of the institution, which by its influence have been brought into close fellowship.

The Phoenix

The students of the University publish a handsome annual called The Phoenix. It is a large volume beautifully illustrated and bound, containing half-tones of all student organizations and members of the Faculty, in addition to reading matter of a humorous and serious cast. The Phoenix is a source of pleasure and pride to all who are in any way connected with the University.

Expenses

Fees

All term fees must be paid in advance. No one will be recognized as a student until his matriculation certificate has been signed by the Dean of the Faculty. In exceptional cases only shall students be permitted to have any part of their fees refunded. In cases of protracted sickness or providential occurrences requiring long absences, it is customary to give the student credit on his fees for another term by such an amount as may be deemed proper; and if he cannot return, he may transfer his right to another.

From fifteen to twenty hours will be considered full work for which students will pay the regular fee. Students taking more or less than the regular work will be charged in proportion. Students entering within four weeks of the opening are charged for the full term. Students who enter late and desire credit for the work already done by the class will pay full fees.

Candidates for the ministry and children of active ministers are exempt from tuition, but are required to pay all other fees. If candidates shall ever voluntarily abandon the ministry, or shall not connect themselves with some department of church work, they will be required to remit to the Treasurer the full amount of tuition fees, according to regular charges, with interest.

Boarding

The cost of board per week ranges from $2.25 to $4.25. This includes room rent, fuel and lights. The cost of living in the College dormitory on the campus will be $60 per term, payable in advance. Students boarding here will furnish their own toilet articles, four single sheets for bed 3x6 feet, one pillow, two pillow cases, two comforts, or one comfort and a pair of blankets if preferred. The cost of repairs for damage to the building will be expected from the student responsible. Only young men will be admitted as boarders. Special efforts to provide suitable homes for young ladies will be made by the Faculty. Scholarship students who receive favors from the faculty will be expected to board at the Dormitory. Divinity Hall, which has been very successfully operated for several years, has reduced the cost per month to about $10. Many of the best homes in Lebanon are open to student boarders, who thus are brought directly under the moral and refining influences of Lebanon society.

								Half

Students working in any of the Laboratories deposit five dollars to cover breakage. As much of this as is unused will be refunded at the close of the year.

It is thus seen that the total necessary expenses of College students, exclusive of books, clothing and washing, need not exceed $100 per term of twenty weeks, and may be reduced to $85 if the student boards in a club.

Admission Requirements

Methods of Admission

Admission to the College may be obtained in two ways:

I. By Examination.—The regular examinations for admission to the Freshman class are held in the preparatory schools in May, and at the University in September. For students who desire to be examined elsewhere, and at a different time, satisfactory arrangements can be made. In such cases a small fee will be charged.

Written examinations will be held in the following subjects: English, Mathematics, Latin, Greek, French, German, History and Science. In lieu of our own the entrance examinations prescribed by the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Southern States will be used. These will be supplied Preparatory teachers on request.

No student will be admitted to standing in the University whose examination paper shows a marked deficiency in English composition, spelling and punctuation. 2. By Certificate.—In lieu of written examinations certificates from certain training schools whose work has been approved by the Examining Board will be received. In the section of country directly contributory to the University there are a number of training schools of excellent grade, certificates from the principles of which will admit students to regular standing without written examinations.

It is suggested that students who wish to enter by certificate make application to the Registrar through their respective principals as early as possible. Blank forms may be had on application.

The Unit System

The credit allowed preparatory work which may be offered for admission is expressed according to the Carnegie Foundation Unit System. The unit is defined thus: "A course of five periods weekly throughout an academic year of the preparatory school."

Outline of Subjects for Admission

English-

The preparation for admission to the English work should include a thorough training in grammar and English composition. The student should possess a good knowledge of spelling, punctuation, capitalization, and should have mastered the contents of the books listed below. In addition, a reasonable amount of collateral reading of English authors in poetry and prose should have been done. The examination is designed to test the candidate's appreciation of the literature studied, and further, to test his ability to express his thoughts in simple, idiomatic English. No student will be granted standing whose written work indicates lack of familiarity with the spirit and contents of the books in the required list, and shows defective spelling, punctuation, grammar, etc. It is suggested that the candidate present as a further evidence of his preparatory work the exercise book used in composition. The examination will consist of four parts, based upon the following courses required for entrance:

- a. Grammar and English Lessons.—One unit. The correction of sentences illustrating common grammatical and rhetorical blunders. Texts recommended for study: Allen's School Grammar, Longman's English Grammar, Kimball's English Sentence, Lewis' Applied English Grammar.
- b. Rhetoric and Composition.—One unit. The writing of brief essays and character sketches based on the contents of the volumes of classics mentioned under the following course. Texts recommended: Clark's Practical Rhetoric, Lockwood and Emerson's Composition and Rhetoric, Herrick and Damon's Composition and Rhetoric, Scott and Denny's Elementary English Composition.
- c. English and American Classics.—One unit. The answering of questions dealing with the contents of the following listed books which must be read: Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice and Julius Caesar; Addison's Sir Roger de Coverley Papers; Coleridge's Ancient Mariner; Irving's Life of Goldsmith; Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal; George Eliot's Silas Marner; Scott's Lady of the Lake and Ivanhoe; Tennyson's Gareth and Lynette, Lancelot and Elaine, and The Passing of Arthur. The student should be able to make analyses of the thought, to relate the main incidents, to describe the most interesting situations in the books, and to supply ordinary biographical details. The following are to be studied carefully: Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America, Macaulay's Essays on Addison and Johnson, Milton's Minor Poems, Shakespeare's Julius Caesar.

MATHMATICS—

a. Algebra to Quadratic Equations.—One unit. Through Quadratics—one-half unit. Texts recommended for study: Wentworth's, Wells', Milne's.

b. Plane Geometry.—One unit. Solid Geometry.—One-half unit. Texts recommended for study: Wentworth's, Wells', Phillips' and Fisher's.

LATIN-

- a. Latin Lessons, Grammar, Prose Composition.
- b. Caesar, four books.—One unit. In place of books three and four about fifty pages of Cornelius Nepos may be substituted. The passages selected for translation will be accompanied by questions dealing with the subject-matter, constructions, etc.
- c. Cicero six orations.—One unit. The passages selected for translation, accompanied by the usual questions of forms, construction, etc. Composition.
- d. Virgil's Aeneid, six books.—One unit. In place of two books of the Aeneid, two thousand lines of Ovid may be offered. In addition to the usual questions accompanying the selections for translation there will be questions on prosody. Composition.

Latin texts recommended: Collar and Daniell's First Year Latin; Smiley and Storke's Beginner's Latin Book; Churchill and Sanford's, or D'Ooge's Viri Romae; Allen and Greenough's Ovid; Roberts' Cornelius Nepos; Allen and Greenough's or Bennett's, or Harkness' Grammar; Caesar, Kelsey, or Harkness and Forbes; Virgil, Knapp; Cicero, Allen and Greenough; Composition, Rigg's In Latinum, or Moulton and Collar.

GREEK-

- a. Greek Lessons, Grammar, Prose Composition.—One unit.
- b. Xenophon's Anabasis, four books.—One unit. Two books of the Anabasis may be replaced by an equivalent amount from the Cyropoedia. The selections for translation will be accompanied by questions dealing with forms, constructions, and accent. Composition.

c. Homer's Iliad, three books.—One unit. For one book of the Iliad an equivalent amount of the Odyssey may be substituted.

Greek Texts recommended: White's or Gleason and Atherton's First Greek Book; Goodwin's Grammar; Xenophon's Anabasis, Goodman and White, or Harper and Wallace; Homer's Iliad, Seymour; Composition, Pearson.

HISTORY-

Credit for History will be given according to the time devoted to each branch of the subject.

- a. United States History and Civil Government.—One unit.
 - b. General History.—One unit.
 - c. Epochal History.—One unit.
 - d. English History.—One unit.

The following texts are recommended:

Colby's Outlines of General History, Meyers' General History, Montgomery's, or Channing's, or Thomas's, or Larned's History of the United States; McLaughlin's History of the American Nation; Coman and Kendall's, or Larned's, or Gardiner's History of England.

Science—

Any Science studied one year with adequate laboratory practice will be given a credit of one unit; without the practice work, one-half unit only will be credited.

a. Physical Geography.—One-half unit. Texts recommended: Davis', Tarr's, Gilbert and Brigham's. Physiology.—One-half unit. Texts recommended: Coleman's, Blaisdell's, Martin's.

- b. Physics.—One unit. Texts recommended: Gage's, Carhart's, Wentworth and Hill's.
- c. Chemistry.—One unit. Texts: Smith and Hesler's, Newell's.
- d. Biology.—One unit. One year in elementary Botany or Zoology.

FRENCH-

Elementary.—Two units. Two years must be given to the preparation of this subject. The examination will call for familiarity with the various forms of inflections of noun, adjective, verb, etc., a possession of a fair vocabulary of words, and the acquaintance with the ordinary rules of syntax. Texts recommended: The grammars of Fraser and Squair, Edgren, and Deborde. Muzzarelle's Brief French Course. The readers of Super, Rollin, and Kuhns. L'Abbe Constantin; and La Belle Nivernaise.

GERMAN-

Elementary.—Two units. The preparation in this language must be the equivalent of that in French. Texts recommended: Becker's Elements of German, and Thomas. The readers of Harris, Brandt, and Joynes-Meissner. Marchen und Erzahlungen; L'Arrabiata.

Admission to Regular Courses

For admission to the Freshman Class on either of the regular courses of study, the candidate must present fifteen units, as follows:

CLASSICAL COURSE.	Greek a, b, c 3
Units.	-
Mathematics a, b 3	15
English a, b, c 3	Instead of Greek, French or
History a, b, preferably a I	German (two units) and an-
Science, preferably a I	other Science or History (one
Latin a, b, c, d 4	unit) may be substituted.

SCIENTIFIC COURSE. Units.	French or German 2 Any two of
Mathematics a, b	Science c or d History b to d Latin c or d
Science a, b 2	_
Latin a. b 2	15

Admission to Special Courses

While the several courses of undergraduate study in the University are designed primarily to lead to some degree, to certain students, who must offer at least ten units for admission, the privilege will be accorded of pursuing some of these courses without the expectation of receiving a degree. Such special students are subject to the regulations of the University as to admission, scholarship, examinations, attendance, deportment, etc., and are required to take at least fifteen hours of class room work a week. No student under the age of seventeen will be permitted to matriculate as a special student. When requested, certificates of work done will be furnished to special students.

Admission to Advance Standing

Students from accredited Training Schools desiring admission to advanced classes must be prepared to stand written examinations on all work required in the lower classes.

Candidates for admission to advanced classes coming from institutions of collegiate rank will receive full credit for work done elsewhere by forwarding with their request a certificate of class standing from the dean of the college in question. If the certificate presented seems in the opinion of the Faculty to indicate poor scholarship the candidate will be required to stand an examination in the studies in which the deficiency is noted.

Courses of Instruction

The following is a detailed statement of the courses of instruction offered to the students of the University. Numerals in parentheses indicate the number of class exercises per week. A laboratory period covers from two to three hours; a recitation period, one hour.

English Bible

A careful study of the history and literature of the English Bible is essential to the scholar. The Bible, more than any other literature, has influenced the trend of civilization in all ages; it has ever been the inspiration of writers, scientists, philosophers, statesmen, and all others whose lives and works have helped mankind Godward. The Bible contains not only the key to all philosophy of history, but therein may be found the life-ideals which lead to true worth in manhood and womanhood. The purpose of this study is to familiarize the student with the history of the Jewish people, and with the rise and establishment of Christianity; also to open to him the rich literature of the Scriptures, and its broad fields of thought and philosophy.

Free use will be made of the library, lectures will be given the classes from time to time, and theses will be required from each student.

- 1. Historical Study of the Old Testament. Required of all Freshmen. First term (1).
- 2. Historical Study of the New Testament. Required of all Freshmen. Second term (1).
- 3. Life of Christ. Required of all Sophomores. First term (1).
- 4. Life of Paul. Required of all Sophomores. Second term (1).
- 5, 6. Literary Study of the Bible. Elective. Two terms

- 7. Evidences of Christianity. Required of Seniors. One term (2).
 - 8. Christian Ethics.

History

- 1. History of Greece from the earliest times to the Roman Conquest. Required of all Freshmen. First term (2).
- 2. History of Rome from the founding of the city to the downfall of the Empire. Required of all Freshmen. Second term (2).
 - 3. Advanced American History. Elective. One term (2).
- 4. Democracy: A Study of American Institutions. Elective. One term (2).
 - 5. Advanced English History. Elective. One term (2).
- 6. Mediaeval and Modern European History. Elective. One term (2).

English

The instruction in this department is both theoretical and practical. During the first, and a portion of the second, term of the Freshman year students are required to furnish weekly compositions, which, after a careful examination by the instructor, are frankly criticised by him in the presence of the class. The second year's work embraces advanced composition and a special study of the Forms of Discourse.

- 1. Rhetoric and Composition. Theme writing; an examination of the laws of paragraph structure, followed by a study of figurative language. Required of Freshmen in all courses. First term (3).
- 2. Rhetoric and Composition continued. Theme writing; a special study of Description, Narration, Exposition, and Argumentation. Required of Freshmen in all courses. Second term (3).
- 3. Advanced Composition. Special attention will be given in this course to constructive and critical composition, reviews, briefs, etc. Sophomore, Junior and Senior Elective. One term (2).

4. Critiques. This course is designed to supplement the elective courses in Junior and Senior Literature. The nature of the work varies with the subject and the pupil. Courses 1, 2, 3 are prerequisites. Junior and Senior Electives. One term (2).

English and American Literature

It is the aim of the first courses in English and American literature to give the student a general view of the subject. Then follows a more detailed study of authors and their works, stress being laid not on philological and antiquarian matters, but on appreciative literary interpretation. Advanced students are required to do daily collateral reading in the library, to submit theses from time to time, and to make frequent written criticisms on men and books.

- I. From Beowulf to Dryden. A general survey of English literature to the time of the Restoration. Special emphasis laid on Beowulf, and the writings of Cynewulf, Chaucer, Marlowe, Shakespeare, Jonson, and Milton. Prerequisites, English I and 2. Required of Sophomores in all courses. First term (3).
- 2. From Dryden to Kipling. General survey continued. Selections from all the more prominent writers in prose and poetry read and criticised. Emphasis laid on the writings of Addison, Burns, Wordsworth, DeQuincey, Macaulay, and Tennyson. Prerequisite same as that of Course 1. Second term (3).
- 3. American Literature. A general survey from the sixteenth century to the Transcendental movement. Prominence given to the works of Franklin, Irving, Cooper, and the balladists of the American Revolution. Open only to those who have taken Courses I and 2. First term (3).

- 4. American Literature. From the Transcendental movement to the present time. General survey continued. Prominence given to the writings of Poe, Longfellow, Lowell, Holmes, Lanier, Thoreau, and Whitman. Open only to those who have completed Courses I, 2, and 3. Second term (3).
- 5. The Greater Elizabethan Dramatists. Studies in Shakespeare, Jonson, Beaumont, Fletcher, and Webster. Junior and Senior Elective. Courses 1, 2, 3, and 4 prerequisites. First term (3).
- 6. Victorian Literature. Studies in Carlyle, Macaulay, Tennyson, Browning, Rosetti, Morris, Matthew Arnold, and Kipling. Junior and Senior Elective. Courses 1, 2, 3, and 4 prerequisites. Second term (3).
- 7. Anglo-Saxon. Beginners' Course, based on the study of Cook's First Book in Old English. Reading of simple prose. Junior and Senior Elective. First term (2).
- 8. Anglo-Saxon. Reading of selections from the poets Caedmon and Cynewulf. Course 5 a prerequisite. Junior and Senior Elective. Second term (2).

Mathematics

- 1. Algebra. The progressions; binomial theorem; indeterminate co-efficients; indeterminate equations; determinants; theory of equations. Required of Freshmen in all courses. First term (2).
- 2. Plane and Spherical Trigonometry. Trigonometric functions as ratios, not as lines; angular analysis; and solutions of triangles. Required of Freshmen in all courses. First term (2).
- 3. Analytic Geometry. Required of Freshmen in all courses. Second term (4).
- 4, 5. Differential and Integral Calculus. Development of functions; evaluation of indeterminate forms; theory of logarithms; maxima and minima; tangents; normals; and asymptotes. Required of Sophomores in all courses. Two terms (3).

- 6. Land Surveying and Leveling. Elective. First term (2).
 - 7. Higher Algebra. Elective. Second term (2).
- 8. Conic Sections, Salmon. Junior Elective. Second term (2).
- 9. Geodetic Surveying. Measurement of Base-lines; figure adjustments; least squares; and geodetic astronomy. Course 6 a prerequisite. (3)
- 10. Higher Differential and Integral Calculus. Courses 4 and 5 prerequisite. (2)
- II. Solid Analytic Geometry. Course 3 a prerequisite.(2)
- 12. Differential Equations. Course 10 a prerequisite. (2)

· Physics

- I. General Physics. Mechanics of solids and fluids; Heat: thermo-dynamics, kinetic theory, etc.; Acoustics: wave motion and theory of music. Required of Juniors in all courses. First term (3).
- 2. General Physics. Continuation of Course I. Magnetism and electricity: magnetic effects of currents; electrodynamics; dynamos; motors, electric waves, etc. Light: refraction; reflection; polarization; optical instruments. Required of Juniors in all courses. Second term (3).
- 3, 4. Advanced Physics. Elective course for Juniors and Seniors. Two terms (2).

Astronomy

- 1, 2. General Astronomy. Outlines of descriptive and theoretical astronomy. Senior Elective. Two terms (3).
 - 3. Advanced Astronomy, Theoretical and Practical. Elective course designed for those who have taken Courses I and 2. Determination of time, latitude, longitude, and azimuth. Second term (2).

Latin

- 1. Livy; Cicero's De Senectute; and prose composition. Required of Freshmen. First term (4).
- 2. Cicero's De Senectute; Horace: Odes; and prose composition. Required of Freshmen. Second term (4).
- 3. Horace: Satires and Epistles; Tacitus: Annals. Courses 1 and 2 prerequisite. Required of Sophomores. First term (3).
- 4. Tacitus: Annals; Plautus. Courses 1, 2, and 3, prerequisite. Required of Sophomores. Second term (3).
- 5. Cicero's De Amicitia, and prose composition. Courses 1 to 4, prerequisite. First term (3).
- 6. Selections from Lucretius, Catullus, Martial and Juvenal. Supplemented by a study of Latin literature. Courses 1 to 5, prerequisite. Second term (3).
- 7. Selections from Quintilian. Courses I to 6, prerequisite. First term (3).
- 8. Selections from Suetonius, Pliny the Younger, and Aulus Gellius. Terence. Second term (3).

Greek

- 1. Select Orations of Lysias, Xenophon's Memorabilia, and prose composition. Required of Freshmen. First term (4).
- 2. Xenophon's Memorabilia, and Plato's Apology and Crito. Prose composition continued. Required of Freshmen. Second term (4).
- 3. Medea of Euripides and Philippics of Demosthenes. Courses 1 and 2 prerequisite. Required of Sophomores. First term (3).
 - 4. Philippics of Demosthenes and Prometheus of Aeschylus. Courses 1, 2, and 3, prerequisite. Required of Sophomores. Second term (3).

- 5. Thucydides, Demosthenes' Oration on the Crown. Courses 1, 2, 3, and 4, prerequisite. First term (3).
- 6. Sophocles: the Oedipus Tyrannus; History of Greek literature. Courses I to 5 inclusive, prerequisite. Second term (3).
- 7. Selections from the Lyric Poets. Courses 1 to 6 inclusive, prerequisite. First term (3).
- 8. Aeschylus' Agamemnon, and Isocrates' Panegyricus. Courses I to 7 inclusive, prerequisite. Second term (3).

French

- 1. Grammar. Fraser and Squair. First term (4).
- 2. Grammar and Composition. Easy reading, selected short stories. Merimée, Colomba; Sand, La Mare au Diable, or similar texts. Second term (4). Special attention is given in Courses I and 2 to pronunciation and to oral and written exercises in preparation for succeeding courses which will be conducted in French. Courses I and 2 or an equivalent, will be required for entrance if French is offered for admission instead of Greek or German.
- 3. Grammar and Composition continued. Class and collateral reading in Chateaubriand, Hugo, and Daudet. First term (3).
- 4. Continuation of Course 3. Studies in Nineteenth Century Literature: Hugo, Lamartine, Loti, Balzac. Second term (3).
- 5. French Drama of the seventeenth century: Corneille, Le Cid; Molière, Les Femmes Savantes; Racine, Athalie. Selections from Pascal, Bossuet and La Rochefoucauld. First term (3).
- 6. French Literature of eighteenth century: Beaumarchais, Le Barbier de Seville; Voltaire, Zaire. Second term

- (3). Lectures and textual study of French Literature throughout Courses 5 and 6.
- 7. A supplementary course in sight reading, for those who desire more practice in reading and conversation, will be given if desired. Two terms (2). Elective for all who have completed Courses 1 and 2. Courses 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 will be conducted in French.

Spanish

- 1. Grammar and Composition. Hill's and Ford. First term (3).
- 2. Easy Reading. Matzke's Reader: Alarcon's El Capitan Veneno, or similar texts. Junior and Senior Elective. Second term (3).
- 3. Grammar and Composition continued. Spanish fiction, class and collateral reading in Valdes, Galdos and Valera. First term (3).
- 4. Don Quixote, Lope de Vega and Calderon. History of Spanish Literature. Second term (3).

German

- 1. Grammar and Exercises. Thomas's Grammar. First term (4).
- 2. Easy Readings selected stories. Storm, Heyse, Freytag. Grammar and Composition continued. Second term (4). Courses I and 2, or an equivalent will be required for entrance if German is offered for admission instead of Greek or French.
- 3. Grammar and Composition continued. Selections from Modern Authors. First term (3).
 - 4. Readings from standard authors. Second term (3).
 - 5. Study of Lessing and Schiller. First term (3).
- 6. Study of Schiller and Goethe. History of German Literature. Second term (3).

Chemistry

- I and 2. General Inorganic Chemistry—A brief study of Theoretical and Physical Chemistry precedes a more thorough consideration of the elements. All the elements and their more important compounds are studied as to their physical and chemical properties and economic value. The lectures and text-book work are interspersed with experiments for demonstrative purposes, and each student is required to do laboratory work. The practical work of the second term is elementary Qualitative Analysis. Text and reference books: Hinds, Newth, Remsen, Freer, Roscoe and Schorlemmer. Required in Sophomore year of classical students. In Freshman, or scientific students. Two terms, Recitations (3), Laboratory (2).
- 3. Advanced Qualitative Analysis—The student is drilled in the separation of the groups and members of groups, of positive and negative radicals, and in analysis of minerals and ores until he can solve any problem given him. Text and reference books: Newth, Noyes, Prescott, Fresenius, Sellers. Either term (3).
- 4 and 5. Quantitative Analysis—A general course in Gravimetric, Volumetric, Colormetric and Photometric Analysis. Text and reference books: Newth, Fresenius, Carnes, Thorpe, Clowes and Coleman. Qualitative analysis a prerequisite. Two terms (4).
- 6. Organic Chemistry—All the leading types of organic compounds are studied with their graphic formulae, properties and economic importance. Text and reference books: Remsen, Richter, Perkin and Kipping. Courses I and 2 prerequisite. Second term (2).
- 7. Organic Preparations—A laboratory course designed to accompany Course 6. Second term (3).
- 8. Special Methods—Water Analysis; Electrolytic Analysis; Ore Analysis. Other courses designed to meet needs of students. Credit given according to amount of work done.

Geology and Mineralogy

- I. General Geology—These divisions of the subject will be considered fully: Physiographic, Stratigraphic and Lithological Geology; Dynamic and Historical Geology. A general knowledge of Botany and Zoology is necessary to a proper understanding of the Paleontology involved in Historical Geology. It is recommended, also, that the study of Course 2 precede this course. Field trips will be taken as time permits. Text and reference books: Le Conte, Dana, and Scott. Second term (3).
- 2. Descriptive Mineralogy and Lithology—This course includes the study of Crystallography, and of the physical properties of all the more common minerals and rocks. Specimens are used for illustration and the student is made familiar with them so that he can identify them elsewhere. Text: Dana's Works; Kemp's Handbook of Rocks. First term (2).

Biology

BOTANY.

- I. General Morphology—An elementary course covering the entire plant kingdom, including essentials of Ecology, Physiology and introduction to analysis of plants. Coulter's Botany and Gray's Flora are required. Second term, Recitations (2), Laboratory (2).
- 2. Special Morphology—Minute study of Thallophytes, Bryophytes, Pteridophytes and Spermophytes. Reference books: Bessey, Vines, the "Bonn" text-book. Either term, Recitations (2), Laboratory (2).
- 3. Field Botany—During the months of September and May, if students desire it, this course will be given. It will consist wholly of practical work in the field at odd times. Prerequisite: Course 1.

4. Histology—Practical work in section cutting, staining and mounting specimens.

ZOOLOGY.

- 5. Invertebrate Zoology—Careful study of typical forms of all the groups, beginning with the Protozoa. Text and reference books: Kellogg, Thomson, Parker and Haswell. First term, Recitations (2), Laboratory (2).
- 6. Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates—Continuation of Course 5 with respect to Vertebrates, studying the type forms comparatively. In both this and Course 5 special attention is paid to the doctrine of development. Second term, Recitations (2), Laboratory (2).
- 7. Human Physiology—The object of this course is to give the student a thorough understanding of the anatomy and physiology of the human body. Hygiene and kindred topics are included. First term (3).

Philosophy and Sociology

- I. Logic—A discussion of the laws of thought such as is given in the text-books on logic. A detailed study of the Concept, the Judgment, the Syllogism and the System. Required of Juniors. First term (3).
- 2. Economics—This course consists of studies in the departments of Production, Consumption, Distribution, and Exchange, and some related topics, such as Taxation, Banking, Protection, etc. Required of Juniors. First term (2).
- 3. Ethics—A study of the psychological ideas upon which ethics is founded—the moral life as it is seen in the Social Unity; Moral Institutions; the Duties; the Virtues; Moral Pathology; Moral Progress. Required of Juniors. Second term (3).
- 4. Elementary Psychology. Required of Juniors. Second term (2).

5, 6. Psychology—This course includes a brief study of the brain, spinal cord, and other parts of the body which affect the psychological powers and processes, with the descriptive psychology of the fundamental processes, the senses, the higher psychical functions, the feelings and the will. In the psychological laboratory experiments are made in the studies of reflex action, reaction-time, memory and attention.

Text-books and Works of Reference: James's Psychology, briefer course; Ladd's Descriptive Psychology; Dewey's Psychology; Baldwin's Handbook of Psychology; Wendt's Human and Animal Psychology; Scripture's New Psychology. Required of all Seniors. Two terms (2).

- 7. History of Philosophy—In this course is given a general survey of the important systems of philosophy. Required of all Seniors. First term (3).
- 8. Sociology—An introductory study of the subject. Required of all Seniors. Second term (3).
- 9, 10. Science of Education—In this department regular students as well as those desiring to equip themselves for teaching, will have the opportunity to study: (1) History and Principles of Education, (2) Elementary Psychology, (3) Child Psychology, (4) Educational Theory and Method. Two terms (3).

Text-books will be used; also, the valuable reference works to be found in the Mitchell Library.

Graduate Courses

Graduate instruction is offered in all the branches taught in the College, and is arranged in a course leading to the degree of Master of Arts. In this course at least one year of residence is required. Students entering upon the course must pay a matriculation fee of $5, and, during residence, pay the usual college fees, together with such Laboratory fees as the course selected may require. On receiving the degree the student will pay an examination and diploma fee of $25. Candidates for the ministry are not exempt from any of these fees.

Master of Arts

Graduates with the degree of Bachelor of Arts of this institution, or of other colleges with equivalent courses of study, will be received as candidates for the degree of Master of Arts. One year of resident study will be required. The student will select from the electives offered in the College Junior and Senior years enough of subjects to make eighteen hours a week and to include three of the following general lines of study: Language, Mathematics, Science, Philosophy, and English. The candidate must pass satisfactory examinations on all these subjects of his study, and present an acceptable thesis on some subject within the range of his special studies.

Bachelors of Science of this institution and of other institutions having equivalent courses of study will be admitted as candidates for this degree, provided they pass satisfactorily an examination in Latin and Greek such as is required for admission to the Freshman class, or devote five hours in the week to the study of Latin and Greek during their year of residence.

Engineering School

Established 1852

WINSTEAD PAINE BONE, A.M., D.D., PRESIDENT.
A. H. BUCHANAN, DEAN.

The Faculty is composed of Instructors in the School of Arts and Science.

Preliminary Statement

The requirements for entrance to the School of Engineering are the same as those for entrance to the Scientific Course of the College.

The course of instruction embraces:

- 1. Civil Engineering.
- 2. Mining Engineering.
- 3. Architecture and Design.
- 4. Geodesy and Topography.

The following four years' course is required for candidates for the degree of Civil Engineer:

Program of Studies of the Course in Civil Engineering

FRESHMAN YEAR.

Algebra. Analytical Geometry.
Trigonometry. Land Surveying.
Descriptive Geometry. Perspective Drawing.
Drawing and Lettering. English Composition.

English Composition. Rhetoric.

Rhetoric. Shades, Shadows, Perspective.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

French and German

Descriptive Geometry-Stereoscopic views of the solutions of the principal problems; construction in India ink of all problems, Isometric Projections, and Plane Projection Drawings.

Shades, Shadows and Perspective—Problems constructed in India ink.

Railroad Engineering-From Reconnaissance to Construction.

Railroad Alignment—Problems performed in the field, Setting out Work, Computations of Earth-work, and Drawing Plans and Profiles.

Drawing—Map and Topographical, in Contours and Hachures; Ornamentation and Lettering. (Sample Topography from United States Coast and Geodetic Survey Reports.)

Mechanics of Engineering—Construction of Machines and Machine Drawing; Slide-Valve and Link Motion; Air, Water and Steam Motors.

Civil Engineering—Materials and Structures, Theory of Stresses, Stability and Strength of Wood and Iron Girders, Bridges, Roofs, and Arches. Mechanics and Materials. Masonry: Retaining Walls, Foundations, Tunnels, etc.; Analytical and Graphical Methods of Deducing Stresses.

Stereotomy—Carpentry and Stone-cutting.

Geodesy—Figure Adjustment of Geodetic Surveys, and Computations for Latitude, Longitude, Altitude, and Azimuth of Triangulation points and lines.

Expenses

Tuition—Fifty dollars per term of five months. Board—See under College Department. Books cost about $65 for the entire course.

School of Pharmacy Established 1909

Y. P. WOOTEN, DEAN.

General Statement

The conception and organization of the School of Pharmacy have followed the increasing demand for a pharmaceutical department. The University Trustees and Faculty are encouraged to believe that great possibilities are before those who will direct this professional school. The school has been organized as a regular part of the University Unit and will be supported by all of the influences and advantages which obtain in other regular departments.

Every desirable facility for efficient work in the class-100m and in the laboratories will be guaranteed by the excellent equipment of the University scientific departments. All Chemical, Biological and Physiological Laboratories will be open to students who may register for this course. Service of the highest order in tuition and in practical training is assured.

Students will be admitted to the School of Pharmacy on the conditions prescribed in the College of Arts and Science and will be subject to the general rules which obtain in all other departments. The advantages of Libraries, Gymnasiums and Athletics will be open to all matriculates. A number of the College courses may be elected by the students of the School of Pharmacy.

Course of Study

The course embraces the study of the theory and practice of Pharmacy and demands constant and thorough laboratory work. The course leading to the degree of Pharmaceutical Chemist (Ph.C.) covers two years and embraces study in Inorganic and Organic Chemistry, Physiology and Botany, Materia Medica, The Theory and Practice of Pharmacy, Morphology and Histology. The amount of laboratory practice varies with the course and will be assigned with reference to practical demands. Throughout the two years study, however, and in connection with every course thorough laboratory analysis and exercises will be insisted upon.

Chemistry

The study of Chemistry will include Courses 1 and 2 in General Inorganic Chemistry defined on page 37 of the Catalogue; Course 3 in Qualitative Analysis (page 37); Courses 4 and 5 in Quantitative Analysis (page 38); and Courses 6 and 7 in Organic Chemistry (page 38). Laboratory practice will be required in all courses indicated.

Physiology and Botany

In Botany Courses 1 and 2 defined on catalogue page 39 will be required. In Physiology, Course 7 (page 39). Laboratory practice in Botany.

Pharmacy

- 1. For the first year students, throughout the first term. History of Pharmacopoeias, the various systems of measures and weights, specific gravity, heat, and scale practice. Laboratory practice four hours a week.
- 2. For the first year students, throughout the second term. Pharmacopoeial Formulary, and other preparations are studied. Prescription reading and filling. Laboratory work, four hours a week.
- 3. For the second year students, throughout the first term. Study of oils, alkaloids, glucosides, neutral principles, toxicology, posology, etc. Lectures and laboratory drill.

4. For the second year students, throughout the second term. Study of organic and inorganic salts and acids; incompatibilities in prescriptions; continued drill in correcting, reading and filling prescriptions.

Materia Medica

I and 2. For the first year students, throughout the year. Pharmacognosy: Study of Botanical, Latin and ordinary names, the habitat, and the active principles of practically all important drugs. Study of Chemicals, oils, pharmaceutical preparations, with special reference to a recognition of all by their physical properties.

3 and 4. For the second year students, throughout the year. Pharmacology, Toxicology, and Therapeutics.

Expenses for One Year

Tuition for one year	75 00

Law School

Established 1847

Faculty

WINSTEAD PAINE BONE, A.M., D.D., NATHAN GREEN, LL.D., DEAN. ANDREW B. MARTIN, LL.D. W. C. CALDWELL, LL.D.

Historical Note

This school was created as a department of Cumberland University on the 9th day of January, 1847; or, to be more accurate, on that day the Board of Trustees took the first step, by resolution, looking to the establishment of a Law School. At various subsequent sittings of the Board the plan of organization was perfected, and in the month of October, 1847, the first term opened, with one professor and seven students present. Judge Abraham Caruthers was the professor. He resigned his seat upon the bench of the State to accept the position. His name has passed into history as one of the ablest judges that ever presided in the courts of the State. His opening address attracted wide attention, and it was copied and commented upon in many of the legal publications throughout the country. He assailed and utterly discarded the old system of teaching by lectures, and insisted that the science of law should be taught like any other science—like mathematics, like chemistry.

The school was at once a success. In 1861, at the breaking out of the war, there were one hundred and eighty law students in attendance. Judge N. Green, Senior, then one of the Supreme Judges of the State, was called to assist Judge Caruthers in the conduct of the school in 1852. He resigned his position on the bench to do so. Shortly thereafter N. Green, Junior, was elected a professor, the prosperity of the school requiring the services of three instructors. These three gentlemen continued as the Faculty until the breaking out of the Civil War in 1861. Judge Abraham Caruthers died during the war. Judge N. Green, Senior, survived the war, and assisted his son (N. Green, Junior) in the revival of the school, but died, at an advanced age and full of honors, in 1866. He was succeeded that year by the Hon. Henry Cooper, and two years thereafter, Judge Cooper, having resigned, Judge Robert L. Caruthers, who was for many years on the Supreme bench of the State, was elected to fill the vacancy. He resigned in 1881 because of advancing years and feeble health, and Andrew B. Martin succeeded him, having been elected to the position in 1878. In 1902 Judge W. C. Caldwell, then upon the Supreme bench of the State, was elected a third professor, and he will hereafter give a portion of his time to the duties of the place, giving instruction in Constitutional Law and General Practice, including the hearing of cases in Supreme Courts.

This is among the oldest law schools of the South, and its success from the beginning has been unparalleled by any other similar institution. Thousands of young men have here received instruction in the law. They are to be found in every section of the country, and in every honorable station for which professional training fits them. Some have reached the bench of the "greatest court on earth," the Supreme Court of the United States, and many are and have been chief executives of States and members of both houses of the United States Congress. Indeed, wherever found, in public or private station, on the bench or at the bar, their successful careers, attributable in some degree, in our opinion, to the systematic training received here, are giving prestige to their Alma Mater.

No law school in the country within the first half century of its existence has furnished the profession a more honorable and worthy body of graduates than has this school, and it is with commendable and natural pride that the institution now points to the record of these distinguished sons.

Plan of Instruction

It is only by exercising the energies of his own mind that a student can qualify himself for the bar. Any plan which would propose to make a lawyer out of him without his doing the hard work for himself would be idle and visionary. The virtue of any plan of instruction must consist of two things:

1. That it cause the student to work, or, in other words, to study diligently.

To accomplish this, we give the student a portion of the text as a lesson every day, and examine him on it the next day. He is required to answer questions upon the lessons thus assigned in the presence of the whole class. If he has any spirit in him, or pride of character, this will insure the closest application of which he is capable. Neither the old plan of studying in a lawyer's office nor the old law school plan of teaching by lectures has anything in them to secure application. The student is brought to no daily examination to test his proficiency. There is not the presence of a large class in which he has to take rank, either high or low. All that is calculated to stimulate him to constant, laborious application is wanting in both these plans. We suppose no young man would from choice adopt the office plan as the best mode of acquiring a knowledge of law, and yet the law school lecture system is no better. The law is in the text-book. The professor can no more make the law than the student himself. Every subject upon which a lecture could be given has been exhausted by the ablest professors, and printed in books after the most careful revision by the authors. We would regard it as an imposition on students, and as presumptuous on our part, to pretend that we could improve upon Kent, Story, Greenleaf, Parsons, and others who have given to the public, in printed form, and acceptable to all, lectures on every branch of the law. We, therefore, think it better for the student to occupy his time in learning, with our assistance, what others have written, than in learning from anything we could write. If our mode of teaching is more difficult to us, it is much more profitable to the student.

2. The plan should not only be calculated to make a student work, but it ought so to guide him and direct him as to make him work to the greatest advantage.

A man may work very hard, but still so unwisely that he will accomplish no valuable object. It is equally so with the farmer, the mechanic and the law student. The student ought to have such a course of study assigned to him, and be conducted through it in such a way, as that he will understand at the end of his pupilage the greatest amount of pure, living American law, and will know best how to apply it in practice.

The duty of the professor in this school is to conduct the daily examination of students upon the lessons assigned them; to direct their minds to what is most important in the text-books; to teach them what is and what is not settled; to correct the errors into which they may fall; to dispel the darkness that hangs upon many passages—this is necessary every day, and at every step of their progress.

Moot Courts

The law is a vast science, and a very difficult one, and the student needs every possible facility to enable him, by the most arduous labor, to comprehend its leading elementary principles. But this is not all he has to do. He has to learn how to apply these principles in practice. This is the art of his profession, and he can only learn it by practice. It is as necessary a preparation for assuming the responsibilities of a lawyer as the learning of the science. If he learns it at the bar, it is at the expense of his client; if he learns it in the school, it is at his own expense.

The advantage of the Moot Court System is that it not only indoctrinates a student into the elementary principles of law involved in his cases, but also in the law of remedies. It trains him also in the discussion of facts, and to the exercise of that tact which is so important in real practice.

Practice in Moot Court forms a part of the plan of instruction. Every student is required to bring suits in the forms adapted to all our courts, and to conduct them to final hearing. The professors act as judges, and the students act as attorneys, jurors, clerks and sheriffs.

Course of Study

This has been selected with care from the best works of the best American authors. It begins with the mere rudiments and extends to every department of law and equity which may be of any practical benefit in this country, and is designed to prepare the student for an immediate entrance upon the active duties of his profession.

It covers above ten thousand pages of living law, and is as comprehensive as the courses requiring two years' study in other law schools. The period which we allow for its completion might be extended, at additional expense of time and money to the students, but we know from long experience that, with the assistance and under the direction of the Faculty, it can be thoroughly accomplished in ten months, and that by requiring this to be done we prepare young men to receive a license to practice, and enable them in the shortest time, and at the least expense, to begin the work of life.

From the vast variety of legal topics, the law of which is taught in this course, the following may be mentioned, to wit:

Husband and Wife, Marriage and Divorce, Parent and Child, Guardian and Ward, Master and Servant, Pleading and Practice in Courts of Law, Pleading and Practice in Courts of Equity, Principal and Agent, Partnership, Factors and Brokers, Bailments, Railways and Other Common Carriers, Administrators and Executors and Probate of Wills, Trustees, Guaranty and Suretyship, Sales, Warranties, Negotiable Instruments, Contracts, Corporations, Torts, Damages, Mortgages, Marine, Fire and Life Insurance, Equity Jurisprudence, Criminal Law and Procedure, Real Property, Evidence, Dower, Landlord and Tenant, Law of Nations, Constitutional Law, Federal Jurisdiction, Copyrights, Patents, Trade Marks, etc.

Text-Books

FOR THE JUNIOR CLASS.

History of a Lawsuit (Martin's Edition).
Cooley on Torts.
Clark on Corporations.
Kent's Commentaries (Vols I, II, III).
Greenleaf on Evidence (Vol. I).
Stephens on Pleading.

FOR THE SENIOR CLASS.
Kent's Commentaries (Vol. IV).
Barton's Suit in Equity.
Story's Equity Jurisprudence.
Black's Constitutional Law.
Parsons on Contracts.
Clark's Criminal Law.

Books for the course may be bought in Lebanon at the prices stated under the head of Expenses, which is less than publishers' rates; or, if the student should prefer not to purchase, the books for either class can be rented from book-sellers in Lebanon.

It must be remembered that the books used in this school are the regular text-books of the profession, and will always be needed in practice, and when once bought will last a lifetime.

Not a Lecture School

Remember, this is not a lecture school. The law of the text-book is assigned as a lesson to the student, and actually read by him, and he is examined daily in the class room on what he has read.

Time Required

Each class (Junior and Senior) requires a period of five months—that is, the student, on entering the Junior Class, studies the books of that class for a term of five months, and then, passing to the Senior Class, studies the books of that class for another like term of five months, thus completing the entire course in ten months, or two terms of five months each. The next term begins on the first Wednesday in September, 1909, and the fourth Monday in January, 1910. There is a Junior and a Senior Class beginning with each term, and students may enter at the opening of either term.

Admission to Classes

No student will be enrolled or allowed the privileges of the class room until he has paid in full the tuition and contingent fees of the particular class which he desires to enter. Partial payments will not be accepted. Young gentlemen should come prepared to comply with this rule.

No previous reading of law or any special literary qualifications will be required to enter the school.

No one will be admitted to the Senior Class with a view to graduation except such as have gone satisfactorily through the Junior Class here.

Students who do not intend to graduate may enter at any time, and in either class.

Examinations

There are no entrance examinations, but, in addition to the daily recitation in the class room, the student is required to pass a written examination upon each book on its completion; and from his grading on such examinations, together with his standing at class recitations, and his earnestness and fidelity in prosecuting his studies, the Faculty determine his fitness for graduation. Absence from recitations or disorderly conduct will lower the grade.

When to Enter

It is desirable that students should enter as nearly as possible on the first day of the term. Those entering later will be required to make up such portions of the course as have been passed over by the class; and where this is not practicable during the term, the student will be required to remain over to complete the course under the direction of the Faculty. No reduction of fees is made for late entrances.

Results

A graduate of the Lebanon Law School has had the benefit of a year's reading of solid law, and the experience of a year's practice in the Moot Court. As a result, he is well grounded in a knowledge of legal principles; he has learned how to talk to a client, how to prepare his case for trial, how to try it, how to prepare a brief, how to deliver an argument on the facts and on the law. Indeed, he is, on the day he is admitted to the bar, a well-equipped lawyer of experience, and can manage his client's case with the confidence and composure of an old practitioner. The very thorough and practical manner of teaching law in this Law School insures such results to every earnest young man who passes through its course and receives its diploma.

Diploma and License

A diploma conferring the degree, Bachelor of Laws, will be given to all graduates of the school. To obtain a license in Tennessee to practice law, all applicants must pass an examination before the State Board of Law Examiners. It is, however, provided in the law that the examiners shall visit Lebanon and examine applicants from this school on the ground. The course of study prescribed here, if accomplished under the direction of the Faculty, prepares the young man, in the shortest time possible, and at the least expense, for that examination. The license, when authorized by the Supreme Court, will be delivered by the Faculty to all successful applicants. It admits one to practice in all courts in Tennessee, State and Federal, and those holding such license, and a diploma from this school, are usually admitted to practice in other States without further examination.

All graduates of the school are invited to remain another year to review, and to induce them to do so no tuition is charged for the second year.

If the books are bought the expenses would be increased, making total for Junior Class, $161, and for Senior, $166.

Location

Lebanon is one of the oldest towns in Middle Tennessee. It celebrated its centennial in 1902. It has been an educational center almost throughout its history. Its people are celebrated for their culture, morality, and hospitality. The students are received into all their homes. Boarding can be had with the best families and at rates mentioned under "Expense." It is an ideal community for student life. The University is the chief enterprise of the town, and as a result, the citizens are deeply interested in its prosperity. They accord to the student a most hearty welcome. He is at home at their firesides, and receives on all hands words of cheer and encouragement.

Library

A large and valuable law library for the use of law students is open every day in the week, Sundays excepted.

It is located in the law building in a handsomely furnished room, well lighted and heated. In addition to law books, a large amount of the best magazine literature is furnished, thus affording the student ample opportunity for recreation and improvement.

The attention of old graduates is respectfully called to the fact that a law library never stops growing—that to keep abreast of the times, it must continually grow. The Law School will be grateful for donations, great or small, in money or new books, from any of its many friends. During the last three years about one thousand dollars' worth of new law books have been added. The Faculty take this opportunity to acknowledge the recent gift to the library of the codes and compiled statutes of Texas, Arkansas and Alabama, which were procured through the kindly offices of the young gentlemen of the graduating classes from those States; and of more than fifty volumes of Reports and Text-books from Hon. Atkins Lindsley, of the Denver, Colorado, bar.

Saloons

Under the laws of the State the sale of intoxicating liquors in Lebanon ceased on the first day of June, 1901. On that day the saloon disappeared forever from the town—a consummation which the largely dominant moral sentiment of the community had for many years demanded—and the Law School can now offer to young men who come here freedom from the baneful influence of tippling houses, a condition favorable to successful study not enjoyed by any other law school known to us. Earnest young men who desire success in life will not fail to appreciate the advantages to be derived from such conditions.

Summer Law School

This school opens on the Fourth Thursday in June of each year and continues for a period of Eight WEEKS. Daily lectures will be delivered on the following subjects, and on such others as the necessities of the class may require, and the time allowed may admit, viz:

Nature of Law in General, Law of Nations, Jurisdiction of Courts, Pleading and Practice in Law and Equity, Marriage and Divorce, Husband and Wife, Parent and Child, Guardian and Ward, Master and Servant, Corporations, Partnerships, Wills, Executors and Administrators, Contracts, Sale and Warranty, Statute of Limitations, Statute of Frauds, Bailments in General, Inn Keepers, Common Carriers of Goods, Common Carriers of Passengers, Commercial Paper, Insurance, Sales of Real Estate, Mortgages, Landlord and Tenant, Dower, Torts and Damages, Crimes and Punishments, etc.

This Summer Course will not take the place of any part of the regular law course in the University, but it will prepare the student for a more thorough comprehension of that course when he shall enter upon its study; and as a post graduate review it will serve to fix in the memory the principles of law already learned. After many years of experience in teaching young men, and in observing their needs, the Faculty are convinced that these lectures will prove greatly beneficial to those who attend them, and they advise all to do so, both those students who may have completed in whole or in part the regular course in the Law School here or elsewhere, and likewise those who are contemplating doing so.

The object is to develop and impress in the most practical manner those principles of law that are of frequent application in the life of the lawyer, the business man, and the citizen. No previous preparation or attainments are required for admission to the class; there are no examinations of any kind, no quizzing, and no text-books.

The time covered by this lecture course falls wholly within the summer vacation, and does not conflict with the duties required in prosecuting the regular law course of the University.

Young men who contemplate entering the Law School in September can obtain the benefits of the lecture course by coming a few weeks in advance of the regular opening, and they will be sure to find it valuable as a preparation for the systematic study of law.

If you wish to review your reading before submitting to an examination for license, you should take this course. It will prepare you for that ordeal.

General Information

The Object of the Seminary

The Seminary was founded to train men for the actual work of the gospel ministry; and throughout its history it has adhered to this one purpose. While the institution has striven continually to adapt itself to changing conditions, the course and the methods of study have ever been chosen with this one end in view. It is the Seminary's purpose to bring every department of its studies into a definite relation to the practical work of the Christian minister, and to develop whatever powers each student may possess. give to candidates for the ministry a sound, thorough, intelligent and comprehensive understanding of the Scriptures; clear, well-balanced and evangelical views of Christian truth; a knowledge of the life and progress of the Church as seen historically, with a study of its present environment, needs and activities; and such other training in thought and method as will tend to make one an acceptable preacher and pastor, and a spiritual and manly leader of men—such is the ideal toward which the Seminary strives.

Historical Statement

The Lebanon Theological Seminary was founded in 1852, by action of the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and the Board of Trustees of Cumberland University. The course of instruction was to include "The Greek and Hebrew Scriptures; Biblical Literature; Ecclesiastical and Profane History; Mental Philosophy; Systematic Theology; Sacred Rhetoric; Natural and Pastoral Theology, and Church Government."

It was further provided that the first professorship in the Seminary should be that of Systematic Theology. To this professorship the Rev. Richard Beard, D.D., was elected, and his election was confirmed by the General Assembly of 1853. In the fall of that year the Theological Department began its work. Certain professors in the Academic Department of the University from time to time conducted classes in theological studies; among them the Rev. T. C. Anderson, D.D., President of the University, who gave instruction in Homiletics and Pastoral Theology, and Professor William Mariner, A.M., who gave instruction in Greek and Hebrew. In 1860 the Rev. B. W. McDonnold, D.D., LL.D., was elected Professor of Pastoral Theology and Sacred Rhetoric. The list of professors below will indicate the continual broadening of the Seminary's work. There is now a faculty of six regular professors, besides instructors and special lecturers.

Conditions of Admission; Classes of Students

Applicants for admission to the Seminary must present satisfactory testimonials concerning their Christian character, local church membership and presbyterial relation. Students from other Seminaries must present testimonials of honorable dismission, with certificates of the amount of work done.

Those desiring to enter the Classical course of study, who have not received from some reputable institution of learning the degree of Bachelor of Arts, or its equivalent, must present, by examination or otherwise, satisfactory evidence that they are capable of pursuing with profit the desired course. Candidates for admission to the English course should be not less than twenty-five years of age, of special promise as to talents and capacity for usefulness, and of approved piety, having a fair degree of education, and so circumstanced providentially that they may hope to pursue the course to completion as their respective Presbyteries and the Faculty may direct. Special students must satisfy similar requirements with reference to the particular studies which they desire to undertake.

In obedience to the action of the General Assembly of 1907 (Minutes, page 208), prescribing "that a requirement in the English Bible shall be demanded upon entrance of all students in each of our Seminaries," an examination upon their general knowledge of the contents of the Bible is required of all persons applying for admission to the Seminary.

Regular students are those pursuing the Classical Course of three years, looking to the diploma of the Theological Department of Cumberland University and the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

English students are those pursuing the English Course of three years, looking to a certificate of completion of the course.

Special students are all undergraduate students not pursuing either the Classical Course or the English Course.

Graduate students are those who, having completed the Classical Course, are pursuing further studies under the direction of the Faculty.

Location

The location of the Seminary in a thriving county seat of Middle Tennessee, and an hour's ride from Nashville, the state capital, offers peculiar advantages to students; while they enjoy a measure of quiet and retirement, they may engage in varied forms of Christian work, both city, town and country. Lebanon is reached by two lines of railway, the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis and the Tennessee Central. Long the seat of Cumberland University, and of other institutions of learning, it is a typical college town of the central South, and has many homes of culture and a large student body. Here the ministerial student from the section which the Seminary especially serves may contemplate conditions similar to those which will confront him in his active life as a minister.

Fees and Expenses

No charge is made for instruction. Applicants for admission to the Seminary must pay, in advance of enrollment as students, a contingent fee of $6.50 and a library fee of $1.00 for each term of the Seminary year. No deduction is made from these fees on account of late entrance, or of withdrawal from the Seminary before the end of any term.

Divinity Hall, the property of the Seminary, has its own attractive campus, with two large buildings and several smaller ones. Here Seminary students may occupy comfortable furnished rooms for a fee of fifty cents per month for each occupant; providing their own fuel and lights. Those occupying these rooms are expected to board in the club at Divinity Hall, the rate for table board being $8.00 per month. Families with children are ordinarily not received at Divinity Hall.

The College dormitory, on the University campus, affords excellent accommodations to students, at rates from $13.00 to $15.00 per month, according to rooms selected. Board and lodging may be had in private families and boarding houses in Lebanon at rates from $12.00 per month upward.

Financial Aid

Through the gifts of friends and the income of scholar-ship funds, the Seminary is able to offer a limited amount of aid to deserving students. Those who satisfy the conditions laid down by the General Assembly's Board of Education may receive scholarships from that source. A third source of financial help is found in service as stated supply of congregations within reach of the Seminary. Correspondence on the subject of financial aid should be addressed to the Dean of the Seminary.

General Statement

Announcement

Cumberland University, with its affiliated schools, has always been provided with opportunities for music study, and the work of the past is gratefully acknowledged. The growth of the University and the increasing demand in the South for standard academic music study induced the authorities of the University to establish a Conservatory of Music, organized on the broadest art basis and modeled after the foremost European institutions. Neither effort nor expense will be spared to make it a school of highest ideals, second to none in the high character of its faculty and among the very first in practical usefulness and results.

Teacher's Certificate

A student desiring the Teachers' Certificate must pursue the Academic Course for at least one year. In Piano, Violin and Pipe Organ he must finish the third year's work, and have one year in Harmony and one in History. In Voice he must finish the second year's work and have one year in Harmony and one in History.

Diploma of Graduation and Degree

At least one year of resident study in the Academic Course is required for the degree of Bachelor of Music. The student must pass examination in the following studies:

Piano—Fourth year, Harmony; second year, Theory and History.

Voice Culture—Third year, Harmony; second year, Theory and History.

Violin—Fourth year, Harmony; second year, Theory and History.

Pipe Organ—Same as for Piano.

School of Public Performance

This school is one of the most valuable features in the entire course of study. It is a free advantage to all pupils. No other school of like nature affords such unlimited opportunities for training in this direction. Discipline in this direction is most valuable. What does all study amount to if the student cannot sing or play before friends or an audience?

Our system of training pupils for public performance is absolutely successful.

Memorizing

Pupils are required to memorize both technical exercises and pieces: the former, in order that the whole attention may be given to the absorbing of supple condition of arms and hands; the latter to enable the student to concentrate the mind wholly upon the interpretation of the piece. After the piece is learned, we want to forget the notes, and give a fine inspiration and beautiful, pleasing effects.

Concentration

Pupils are taught from the first lesson to the last to concentrate the mind upon one thing at a time.

To discipline the mind and to apply one's self to the work before one, to the exclusion of all other matter and thoughts, this perfect mental control is absolutely required, and it is this which gives our players and singers their certainty, ease and repose in public appearance.

Assistance to Profitable Positions

Academic students can rely on our assistance to secure for them profitable positions. The Director has placed a large number of his students in very remunerative positions. There are now more offers for competent teachers than students to fill them. It is merely a question of—are you qualified?

Those students who desire more experience after graduating with us will be accepted also in the artist classes of Madam Bloomfield-Zeisler, teacher of the Bush-Temple Conservatory of Music, Chicago, Ill. They will also be accepted by Herr Felix Dreyschock, Royal Prussian Professor of Music, at Berlin. Also by Madam Steppanoff, late with Leschetizky, of Vienna. The Leipzig Conservatory and the Stuttgart Conservatory of Germany are also open to them. Moritz Moskowski, of Paris, France, will accept our graduates, and similar opportunities will be offered to them in voice, violin and organ.

FORM FOR GIFTS TO THE UNIVERSITY BY WILL OR OTHERWISE

The corporate name of the institution is "The Trustees of Cumberland University," and the following form will be sufficient:

I (or we) give to the Trustees of Cumberland University, an incorporated institution of learning at Lebanon, Tennessee (here state what is given, as "one thousand dollars," or "the following described real estate," or whatever it may be, giving a substantial description of it), for the use of—(Here name the object of the gift, as "the College Department of said institution," or "the Theological Department," or "the Law Department," or any other specific use that may be in the mind of the donor.)

The gift may of course omit to mention any special use, and then the fund would be applied by the Trustees in such way as to them would seem most needful for the well-being of the institution. The form in such case would be:

I (or we) give to the Trustees of Cumberland University, an incorporated institution, etc., one thousand dollars (or other property) for the benefit of said institution.

The requirements of local laws must not be overlooked in the execution of wills or other instruments of gifts. They should in all cases be signed and authenticated in conformity with those laws, and in important matters it is safer to have the assistance of resident attorneys.
